Abstract

Nowdays, information system already has a very important role in organization or company. Organiztion or company that is using information system to support its activities will get esier to run its process business. One of facilities that could be used to support and manage information sistem so it could run better and effective is by utilizing technologies. There are some methods to help do strategic planning of information system at enterprise or company such as Zachman, Togaf ADM, Dodaf, Feaf, etc.The method is willing to be used in this final assignment is Zachman enterprise architecture framework.

Based on the spirit of "Serve Wholeheartedly" which is used by employees and management RSUD Taman Husada Bontang, the quality of service to patients is the most important focus. And to improve the quality of those services, RSUD Taman Husada Bontang needs an appropriete strategic planning of information system. Strategic planning is also going through a testing phase. Assessment of the testing of information systems planning is willing to be done by using the EA Score Card.

The results of this study are final documentation containing the proposals or recommendations of strategic planning for the hospital information system Husada Park Bontang.

Keywords: Zachman, enterprises, architecture, framework, EA Score Card