

ABSTRACT

The COVID-19 pandemic, with its associated lockdowns and social distancing measures, led to a significant increase in online interactions, including romantic relationships initiated and maintained through digital platforms. This research explores the impact of online love scams in the post-COVID-19 era, shedding light on the evolving dynamics of these scams in a digitally connected world, this study is aiming to know about what are the experiences that students in Telkom University has dealt with Online Love Scam.

Keywords: Indonesia online love scam, online love scam, college students, post Covid-19