

ABSTRACT

Boutique hotel is a small hotel that provides top class service and luxurious facilities in a private surroundings. The difference between regular hotels and boutique hotels is the unique design of its structure. Boutique hotels designed with cultural elements, taking into the choice of location which is a benchmark for success in its ability to provide a unique experience to visitors. Factors that affect the buildout of boutique hotels are people's interest in art, history, and culture. Javanese Mandala is a culture that divides space based on cardinal directions and each of them has its own hierarchy and character. According to the Javanese creation myth, the cardinal points would divide the earth into four equal parts. This culture is often implemented in art or the interior design of a building, one of them is in the new design of the Java Villa Boutique hotel that located in the city of Yogyakarta. For this reason, this research and interior design plan will represent Javanese Mandala and the characteristics of the Yogyakarta Keraton culture with quality facilities.
