ABSTRACT

Fixed asset is an assets that physically can be seen its existence and its character rrelativly permanent, and also it has a long usefull life. The application made because manually data processing and reporting. Therefore, it needs and application that can know more detail and efficient about data of assets whenever it necessary and also an application that can do tax calculation. This web-based application use programming language of PHP and MySQL database. It used SDLC as its working methods.

The output of this application are reports a list of depreciation reports. With this application, fixed asset of company become more controlled and result more secure and accurate data.

Keyword: Fixed Asset Depreciation