ABSTRACT

Web-based application of performance evaluation and employee payroll (case study: CV. Hidup Baru) is an application that built to support performance evaluation process and employee payroll at CV. Hidup Baru. This application is built to provide solutions form problems that arise in the process of recording presence, the calculation of wages, and wage increases (allowances) of employees at CV. Hidup Baru. The application development is performed with SDLC method a waterfall model where the level of analysis software requirement used interviews with Officers CV. Hidup baru and implemented by framework codeigniter, PHP programming language, and MySQL database. This application uses 3 user there are: Admin (Officer), Owner (Business Owners), and employees (employees who were active employees status). The application provides features for calculation process employees wages each week automatically, providing features to print payroll reports, providing features total salary notification to an employees who were active employees status, and providing features of employees performance evaluation as increase salary reference.

Keywords: Application, Performance evaluation, Calculation of wages, Web, Waterfall.