

ABSTRACT

KPI is a measurement of having the character of quantitative , that which the shape of a method of KPI and its interpretation has been approved by previous and reflecting the determination by the management of factors to a successful organization or company. KPI dependent on types and forms of organization that cleaves to each individual. For measuring a result of working in procurement of goods it is required in the process of success based on an indicator KPI report that concluded in the report so as to be based on the report in the form of a chart success with concise. Application is made with the methods waterfall by using a programming language with codeigniter they framework and use mysql as a database server. Design was used in the application uml and be tested with blackbox testing. The user of this application is of admin, suppliers, non aircraft manufactured manager, other division, other division head, the facilities, part product planning control , the committee of tender , the program manager of office

The keywords: kpi, the process of procurement, measure their performance.