

ABSTRACT

Ayam Cobloos restaurant is a company engaged in food and drink fast-food restaurant. The company does not yet have a definite determination of inventory control often shortage or a buildup of raw materials. The company using Microsoft Excel to doing the recording, storage, and reporting inventory, so that companies often find the constraints of human error and time efficiency. The inventory report generated in the company has not met the standards of accounting, namely in the form of a monthly entry against and discharge of raw materials which are then called inbound and outbound. For make it easier for companies in the running of its business processes, then made by an application using a web-based Framework CodeIgniter and MySQL database, as well as the calculation of the inventory control method using reorder point. The report that will be generated is general journal, ledgers, and stock card.

Keyword: inventory control, reorder point, CodeIgniter.