

Abstract

The use of styrofoam as food containers is still common in the community, without exception included Telkom University Bandung. Whereas styrofoam waste is a forever garbage because it can't decomposed by microorganism. The rofoam prevention of styrofoam usage must be done in continued way in order to save the eart from styrofoam waste that cummulating. As a member of community, university students should be initiative to prevent the use of styrofoam as food containers. This report focused to book media design to communicate the message about the importance of styrofoam food containers use prevention. Analysis is doing at styrofoam user canteen, quistionaire, and garbage observation in Telkom University district.

Keywords: book design, environment, food containers, styrofoam.