

ABSTRACT

SolarWinds NPM (Network Performance Monitor) is a server for network computers to be connected with each other because that is the task of monitoring server , serving , storing data , and control all activities across computer networks . To be able to use the server previously performed construction phase of installation, configuration , and testing for the network to function and accessibilty . Results of this final project in the form of web interface that can be remotely access , notification of Email and SMS Gateway

Keywords: SolarWinds NPM, Server, Email, SMS Gateway