ABSTRACT

Aset Kabupaten Bandung as one of the important elements in the framework of governance and public services must be managed properly and correctly. Kabupaten Bandung to handle and manage data related requires good management information system asets.

Aset management is a process in aset management from planning, procurement, operation and maintenance, and removal which can be controlled so that the process is going well and support the achievement of strategic objectives of government agencies.

This research was conducted using the method of iterative and incremental, the research will result in an aset management system belongings Kabupaten Bandung. This item management system itself will be built using the Java programming language and MySQL as the database.

Keywords: aset management, Java Enterprise Edition