

ABSTRACT

One printing company providing printing services for customers who need located in Tasikmalaya, West Java. In determining the income of these printing services companies are still using less accurate reports to determine how the benefits.

So that the company print services can determine accurate financial reports and determine the profit made by the company, the company requires an application for financial aid in the financial statements and reports mebuat gain accurate.

This application uses a structured method with the programming language php and MySQL database, the application is name "Application Preparation of the Income Statement and Changes in Capital (Case Study CV Rengganis Tasikmalaya)". Database design create using entity relationship diagrams. Based on the testing that was done using a blackbox testing these applications can be run for manufacture of reservations, the issuing of, and issue a report journals, ledgers, income and capital perubhan as expected.

Keywords: CV Rengganis, PHP, MySQL, Income Statement and Changes in Equit

