

ABSTRACT

Game E-Commerce and Review Application Web and Android Based is application that used to help gamers obtain game item and game review. This application is built because of the difficulty of find a reliable game item and game review source, difficulty of game item payment, and difficulty of receipt of game item. To develop this application, the writer using Prototype. This Final Project built using Java Enterprise and Android programming language and MySQL as data storage. This application is used by game item supplier like game store owner or gamers that want to sell and buy game item. With the development this application, it can help overcome the difficulties of find reliable game item source, help overcome the difficulties of game item payment, help overcome the difficulties of receipt of game item because this application features the game item dan game review provider accompanied by top-up the account balance feature as a virtual currency and transaction note feature to assist in the receipt of game item.

Keywords: E-Commerce, Prototype, Java Enterprise, Android.