Every child has a rights to grow and develop well with the grown-ups guidance. Children is a people that is under 17 years old. Their limited experience also take a part on shaping their knowledge and perception about how they see the world around them. They are weak when facing the fact of the condition and the situation around them. However, even though there's a law in a line, the implementation of the law are considered not enough to protect the children from harassment. Child abuse in a form of adults' behavior often happens, threatening children physically and mentally. Considering that reason, writer assume that it is important to educate the children with the use of comic books as the education media for children to identify, avoiding, and protect themselves from every form of abuse and harassment, especially sexual abuse and harassment. Through the observation methods, literature studies, interview, and matrix analysis, the writer come to the point that information in a form of comics can be used as an effective learning media, without neglecting the entertainment side. At this point, the writer conclude that the right media for elementary student is comic books. Comic books will let the children absorb the information well in a fun way. It is expected as the children read this comic books, the children can boost their knowledge about harassment and know how to protect themself from every form of harassment, so in the future, we can minimalized the children harassment. In the future, the writer hopes that there will be more campaign programs with more exciting and creative way from the government and the individuals. So that the next generation will put more attention on children sexual harassment.
