ABSTRACT

Sundanese language is the language of the West Java area, but as time goes Sundanese language is increasingly rarely used in everyday conversation today, especially following the technological development so that more and more cultures enter and slowly sundanese been increasingly forgotten, however the development of the technology itself can utilized as a facility to study the sundanese language itself. With the rapid growth of the android operating system and is almost all people have a mobile phone as android operating system with an opportunity to begin to relearn the Sundanese language from the basic return. On the basis that it built an Application-Based Learning Culture in Android. This application is built up with the prototype with the aim to become a medium of learning basic Sundanese culture.

Keywords: Applications, Sundanese, Android