ABSTRACT

Applications DSLR camera introduction and learning basic photography is a multimedia-based learning tools with the purpose of showing the simulation and animation is simple and provides learning applications of photography. This application was made because of the increasing number of photography enthusiasts at this time. Interactive learning applications and introduced a DSLR camera in the shape of an object in each part will showcase an information on the usability of the camera parts, presents the discussion of basic photographic content in the form of animation such as a book, as well as providing simulation of how to take pictures / photos with a DSLR camera. This application is built using a prototype working methods and use tools Adobe Flash CS6 using the programming language Action Script 2.0.

Keywords: Camera, DSLR, Photography, Application, Flash