

"I think it is time to recognize the fact that man is more than just a mechanism or the costume of conditioning processes, to recognize the humanness of man, to recognize that man is being in a steady search of meaning, and that his heart is restless until he finds meaning in his life."

Frankl, 1967

V. E.

For Mum and Dad

Brothers, Sisters,
and all the rest of the family.
I was born and raised by love and care
you were build for centuries.
Thank you for the strongest foundation of who I am now.