

ABSTRACT

---

Public school lengkong is one of elementary school located on bojongsoang rt 03 rw 01 lengkong village in bojongsoang bandung district .It is matapelajaran that must be taken and taught start of the class 1 through grade 6 done by teachers math .Currently mathematics still learning manual so as to make their interest students / i to learn matter be reduced .In addition , in learning in sdn lengkong students less interest in math because they are considered difficult learned and students bored , this is because of teachers in using props when memperaktekan matter math a lot of students in the classroom causing tend to bored students

Given solution is to make application learning based math web that can help studies matter math and attract students in learn math .Learning math matter what is the application of them are summation , reduction , multiplication , division , measuring instrument time , and rise flat .

Testing in application it uses uat.From the tests has done application has been to display matter a sum, reduction, multiplication, the division of, a measuring instrument time, and rise flat, in accordance with the used in sdn lengkong.

Keyword: Application learning, Mathematics, Web