

ABSTRACT

In Indonesia, more and more parents who abandon their children. While the child is the nation's next generation who has the right to get an education, to get care and to get protection. So we require institutions that can be an alternative for the child care, one of which is Sartika Orphanage in Bandung, which has a goal to provide education and mediation to children in finding and determining the right direction of life for the future by families and religion pattern of nurturing. Orphanage is a place to facilitate child needs both physically and psychologically. Children need space to support their needs and activities such as a playground, gathering area, study room, skills room, and a computer room to support their needs of education, communication, and recreation of children. It is necessary to design Orphanage Sartika, which hoped that the atmosphere can affect the growth and character of the child.
