

ABSTRACT

The Ministry of Home Affairs is the Ministry under and responsible to the President. The Ministry of Home Affairs is the Ministry in charge of relationships within the country. Data to be diklat, then made an electronic-based system that can help employee work.

The method of this system approach is to use object-oriented method. For system development method used. Language modeling method (UML). And data technique by using observation method and.

With this can help employees and prospective training participants to make the process of acceptance to be selected by employees.

Keywords: Ministry of Home Affairs (Kemendagri), Education and Training (Diklat)