

ABSTRACT

In this day and age the readers have started to use digital, so it is feared the collection of books in the library began to decrease and interest in reading in the library will be ruled out with technology. So the library should improve in terms of facilities and supporting what can attract the attention of the community to want to visit the library.

Regional library building, Makassar city itself lacks good facilities and less well maintained so that visitors feel less comfortable and quiet visitors, besides the lack of other supporting facilities such as, children's book collection, children's reading, and reading area less provided, and penmentance of a monotonous interior.

So the design of the Library of South Sulawesi region, Makassar made to revive the interest of reading maxsar city community by improving the service in terms of interior space of interest, comfortable reading room, providing additional collection of books for children and children's reading room, other than that want to give characteristic character of library area of south Sulawesi Makassar by giving nuance of culture in interior space of library building. So that regional libraries not only provide information about general knowledge, but rather provide information about the local culture through the form, pattern and color, meet the facilities and facilities adequate, in terms of interior design is more character.

Keywords: Character, Culture, Makassar, Regional Library, Interior Design.