

ABSTRACT

This research aimed to analyze the number of employees needed in PT XYZ. Based on the employee interview, logistic departement have problems towards the employee workload. The method used on the research are the work sampling and the workload circalculation based on the Ministerial decisions on utilization of the state apparatus. The research shows shows that five units from nine units on the department have problems regarding their workload, specifically that four units are afflicted with overload and the other one unit are afflicted with underload.