

ABSTRACT

---

In this Final Project there is a problem that became the background of the appointment of the title of this Web Based Application For Student'S Enrollment At SMK Bhakti Kencana Soreang . Among them are attachment data collection for official reports, searching data easily, rapidly assessing student test results. From these problems are given some solution that is, handling automatic data collection for service report, having data search feature and making feature so student can fill through desktop and direct known result. Making this final project using waterfall method and built using mysql, php and html programming language.

This final project has followed the testing phase performed in blackbox testing where each function is checked in input. The results of the test obtained that each inputan has been in accordance with what is expected. In conclusion this final project serves to assist the process of admission of new students. Among them assisted by some features concerned with the process of peorses when admission of new students
Keywords: Online, registration, manajemen test, interviewer, member.

Keywords: Registration, Website, Service Report, Registration, Student.