

ABSTRACT

Season changes have an impact to human activity and also outfit in certain season. During rainy season, people usually use warm clothes with thick material and waterproof to keep body dry and warm. In addition, perfect shoes for rainy season with waterproof and anti-slip material and also have a high tops like boots are really helpful. But the problem is women as user target, not really confidence to use rainy boots because its not stylish at all , although its function really needed. Refer to this phenomenon, the research will produce rainy boots which have a fungsional aspect that can protect feet from rain and also can be used while moving around in everyday situations both outdoors and indoors, and of course, women still look stylish when using this rainy boots.
