

ABSTRACT

District Cianjur located at foot of a Gunung Gede mountain with altitude about 450 meters above the sea. The area in general filled with plantation and rice fields. In general district Cianjur is prone to avalanche and earthquake, this phenomenon usually happen when rain season, which is happen between October, November and December.

About 90 Percent area in district Cianjur prone to disaster such as flood, soil avalanche and storm. The data was mapped by Badan Penanggulangan Bencana Daerah (BPBD) district Cianjur. Head of BPBD Asep Suparman state strom disaster potentially in every area within district Cianjur. While flood and avalanche prominently happen in some area, but some area potentially be subject to this disaster. This disaster caused by the structure of geography such as mountain and hill within Cianjur district.

Meanwhile vice head of volunteer and disastrous act division of PMI (Palang Merah Indonesia) Cianjur district H. Rudi Syahdiar Hidayat strongly advising inhabitant to stay alert when weather change drastically. Rudi states that in the near future weather cannot be predicted, this kind of problem need to be anticipated by keep stay alert, to prevent casualty. Rudi always ready to sent out volunteer when disaster come. Volunteer always stand by in specific point that prone to disaster. This procedure make things easy to coordinate as team when disaster come.