

ABSTRACT

This research talk about perception students on the implementation of the national based computer / national examination computer based test (uncbt) academic year 2016 / 2017 .(a study of grade student xii state sma) 8 jakarta .The purpose of this study is to find perception students (students / schoolgirl) public sma 8 jakarta regarding implementation of national examinations based computer (uncbt) .This research involving a variable perception that variable (x) .This research using several theories relevant as communication theory and perception .Analysis techniques the data used the research is a causal quantitative with the method of analysis univariat .The population to research is students (students / schoolgirl) 8 jakarta high school class xii academic year 2016 / 2017 which have been carried out the national computer based , which totaled 325 people with samples from the 76. With using a technique descriptive analysis, the percentage the average variable perception be in the good.In accordance with operational variable in research, that the research is just using one variable the perception.Variable perception is measured by three aspects that is aspects cognitive, affective, and konatif.To know response respondents, so these aspects formulated into the form of statements in the questionnaire to have been given 76 responden.dengan using a technique descriptive analysis, the percentage the average variable perception be in the good.In accordance with operational variable in research, that the research is just using one variable the perception.Variable perception is measured by three aspects that is aspects cognitive, affective, and konatif.To know response respondents, so these aspects formulated into the form of statements in the questionnaire to have been given 76 respondents.

Keywords: Perception students, The minister for on the implementation uncbt, Senior high school of 8 jakarta.