

ABSTRACT

Application of learning or often referred to as E-learning is a learning method used by utilizing technology. Learning in this way is considered quite interesting learners, because learners will be more interactive as the learning process. IPS Learning Application "Various Forms History" is equipped with material features and exercise questions. Menu of material to present the material that has been summarized and the exercise menu problem to worked matter. After doing the exercise questions will immediately bring up the score or value. By using one of Adobe Flash's proprietary software, it is expected to facilitate learners in learning.

Keywords: Learning Application, E-Learning, Adobe Flash