

Self-Concept from the Child Victims of Sexual Violence

(Studi of the Phenomenology specially case of sodomy in Lembaga Perlindungan Anak Jawa Barat)

ABSTRACT

As the increased rate of sexual violence against children nowadays in Indonesia, and the impact of it into their self-concept things which is the main core from children personality, become the reason why this research held for. the purpose of this research is to know how the self-concept from the victims specially sodomi and to know how the communication system and socialize things that created by the sodomi victims in their family scope or the other scope.

This research using Qualitative-Fenomology methods by the Interpretive Paradigm. Search that related to Simbiolic Interaction and self-presentation also dragged into this research. The subject for this research is a 9 years old kid who experienced the sodomi problems, and the suspect is his uncle.

This research found that a primary school kid that ever experienced the sodomi problems have a self-concept which is become negative. They are more sensitive into a joke, easily to get mad, and become moody. Very responsive with compliment, hiperkritis, and also feel alone. but the experience are not only created bad self-concept, but also they can built positive self-concept, which means they know more and respect each other, also being freely to develop it and become opstimistic into competition. As for Interaction and Socialization that created will be more closed because of their trauma against the bad experienced they had.

The Key word : Self-Concept of Child, Sexual Violence, Sodomy, Symbolic Interaction, Self-Presentation.