

ABSTRACT

Adolescence is one stage of human development in finding the character / identity of each other. If a teenager grows in a less conducive environment then it will trigger the emergence of deviant behavior and negative actions. Some of the main factors that cause such behavior are, the influence of the surrounding environment and the lack of moral / religious education either in the family or school environment.

The school that can provide solutions to the problem is a full day school system that can monitor students for a full day when parents are working. But full day school schools are available in the city of Bandung is still quite a lot of inadequate for the application of the system.

One school that uses a full day school system in Bandung is Salman Al-Farisi school. Junior High School is fairly new among other education levels in Salman Al-Farisi. There is a problem in Salman Al-Farisi Junior High School, either in terms of the space or facilities available. This then relates to the interiors and school facilities that can support students to stay comfortable in performing activities for a long time. With the redesign of SMP Salman Al-Farisi is expected to make students still have a passion in learning schools that apply the system full day.
