

The television news interview

It is not a traditional textbook that tries to teach interviewing in a “how to do it” sense. It is instead an insightful study of interviewing which provides essential background and understanding for students, researchers and the press.

