

ABSTRACT

Bandung is famous for its fashion, culinary and natural attractions. Many tourists who want to spend vacation time, but not many people who know what tours are in the district of Bandung. There have been many incidents of tourists who want to vacation usually do not know the exact destination to be addressed. Therefore, with the Application of Web-Based Tourism Information will help and facilitate tourists to enjoy their vacation time well. Web Based Tourism Information Application will provide information about tourist attractions in the district of Bandung, especially for tourists who are far from Bandung. In this application also tourists can reserve a package that already get the services of the guide that can guide and provide other information about tourist attractions that want to be targeted by tourists. This application is built with software development methods, namely Waterfall with PHP programming language and CI framework, and for data base using MySQL.

Keywords: Tourism, Reservation, Guide, Framework CI