

ABSTRACT

Music is experiencing a very rapid growth, no race, boundary and age. This is because music has become one of the entertainment needs that can not be separated from everyday activities. Music can be enjoyed by all circles from all walks of life do not know the time and place to enjoy it. Music can be enjoyed through various ways, such as listening to radio, tape, computer, television, or directly enjoying the music by attending music performances (concerts) in public spaces. The increase of music lovers leads to the increase of musical live performances (concerts), especially in big cities in Indonesia one of them is Bandung. Music concerts can be held in both indoor and outdoor public spaces. Bandung city which is one of the city with high level of musical appreciation in Indonesia. One of the music genres that developed rapidly in the city of Bandung is the genre of rock. But, the city does not yet have a concert hall that meets the standards, both in terms of facilities and acoustics concert space. Those are required to support the musicians and music lovers to do their activities comfortably.
