

ABSTRACT

Disorders can come in any form, such as interference in the form. Disturbances and forms are different things, but in one moment they can be an absolute entity. In this case I (as a subject who felt the moment) tried to re-present the moment by metaphor all the forms of similarity and share the moment with the audience.