The education of character very important implemented at an early age. One of government program for improve quality education in Indonesia with carry out system full day in some schools. Not only taught general knowledge ins school. Like students follow extracurricular activities. In addition, the government does not children to fall into the negative. As we know, that teenagers is a period where they are no longer children but can not be said as adults. Teenagers have a high sense of curiosity. Trying something to be an adult. The method used in this design is qualitative research with case study method and developmental psychology approach. By way of case study method. It can observe the cases of adolescents in nowadays. See some movie references as the basic styling of film editing techniques made into short films. As a person working in post-production, must understand the film to be interesting and light to watch. The editor must be the eyes of the audience. So message in the film is delivered to the public. Editing technique that is taken is montage style. Where from a few pieces of images, cut short, then put together into continuous each other until formed into a scene. In this way, the film is not monotonous and gives the impression on the audience.
