

Abstract

Office is a place used for working and is equipped with supporting facilities. Regent Office is an institution that conduct in public services. The focus of this design is the Regent Office At South Tapanuli regency, North Sumatera. As a state owned building, the public service office has problem of comfort and aesthetics. Some problems encountered are space layouting, facilities, circulation, and office identity as local government office. The office building with bad maintenance need controlling the design and material. Therefore, Regent office At south tapanuli regency design should use design with application elements of regional cultures, safe, and to describe the image of the area.

Keywords : design office, culture, public services