

ABSTRACT

Violations are improvements and are lower than crime. The lack of strict regulation or order that will be the main cause is resolved. One case that fails to arise is student delinquency, both in the school environment and within the school itself. To find out the level of indiscipline of students in the school environment a technology is needed to help teachers understand the level of discipline of these students. As arguing for making a report against students at the Surakarta COLLEGE HIGH SCHOOL, making excuses to refute students desperately needed to know the level of discipline of the students. With the application built at the Surakarta CITIZEN HIGH SCHOOL school, this application is expected to be able to help and maximize the level of confusion in recording student grades in the school environment. And it can be the goal of the school in determining policies in the mental development of students in the school environment.
