

ABSTRACT

Web Base Product Sales at Papersmooth is an application that useful for processing data on sales of goods and web based online sales. The application can integrate the sales system of companies, the features contained in this application include data processing sales, purchase of goods by consumers where consumers can buy product at the same time and input into a shopping cart , can make payments by sending proof of payment, ini the admin section can approve payments dan send a resi to consumers, annual sales report, enter employee data. In application development using the waterfall method modeling system. This application has built with the PHP programming language dan uses mySQL as a database.

Keywords: Management, Sales, Processing, Pelayanan, Report.