

PREFACE

Assalamualaikum Wr. Wb.

All praise be to Allah Subhanahu wa Ta'ala who has bestowed His mercy, favors and gifts so that the thesis with the title "The influence of performance expectancy, effort expectancy, social influence, perceived risk on intention in using mobile banking in the millennial generation in Indonesia "can be resolved properly. This thesis is prepared as one of the requirements to complete the Bachelor Program (S1) at the Faculty of Communication and Business, Telkom Business Administration Department.

The author insists that the completion of this thesis cannot be separated from assistance, guidance, guidance, and advice from all parties. Therefore, the author would like to express his gratitude to:

- 1 Mrs. Citra Kusuma Dewi, SE., MBA as a Thesis Supervisor Lecturer who has greatly helped the fluency of the author in this study. Thank you for giving a lot of input from new sciences, taking time in guiding writers, and always being fast-responding.
- 2 Mr Mahir Pradana, SE. M.Sc as Guardian Lecturer who has motivated the author during the research process.
- 3 All lecturers of Business Administration S1 study programs that have provided knowledge, insight, understanding, and experience as long as the writer is studying at the Faculty of Communication and Business, Telkom University.
- 4 Family at home Arief Setyahadi's father, Mrs. Sari Melati Novanar, and older sister Savitri Yasmin Setyahadi who have supported in all aspects both lahiriyah and batiniyah. As well as all the fluency in this study, the participation of prayer parents was also strong.
- 5 The AB-39-INT classmates were especially friends of the writers Randika Puspo Aulia, Ali Zikri, Muhammad Taufan, Dimaz Pranata, Bambang Sukurillah, Plimsolandre, Riadhy Sanjaya, Adani Khalaffathin, and Hani Khairunnisa who always gave encouragement to work on this research.
- 6 Fellow students of the 2015 FKB International Business Administration major who both struggled from the beginning to become new students until the end of the semester of study who exchanged useful information and knowledge.

7 And other friends who cannot be named here who participated in helping the author in all aspects of both support and assistance in this research, thank you very much.