

ABSTRACT

Cellulite is not a dangerous or contagious disease, Cellulite itself is a topographic change in the skin that displays an image like orange peel, due to changes in fat tissue metabolism and microcirculation. In the work, the author uses the Positive Body Image approach, where a work is displayed as a form that represents what happens in the social. The Positive Body Image approach, according to the author, can represent the ideas that the author wants to convey by displaying a woman's physical condition through works displayed in public spaces.

Keywords : Body Positivity, Celullite, Women's