

Abstract

Age of toddlers is a golden period in the formation of character and mental children. At this age, children's intelligence develops rapidly in accordance with the teaching pattern and parenting style it receives.

Montessori method is one method of approaching toddlers to help develop children independently of the surrounding environment. By applying an approach wherein the child corrects the mistakes he made as much as possible, giving him the opportunity to work according to the rhythm of the child. Also observe when children are ready to learn new things.

But today, the number of gadget uses among toddlers is very high. A study conducted by the AsiaParent Insight with 2500 elderly respondents in Singapore, Thailand, Indonesia, Malaysia and the Philippines 98% of them allowed their children to use smartphones/tablets.

Therefore, by making a Montessori-based Game application will entertain them and also to help develop children.
