

ABSTRACT

Employee performance can determine how the institution run their task properly. An Office which have well performance will strive the employees to have good performance by creating the office comfortable for efficiency in work so that the institution can achive the target. Pussainsa LAPAN is a government institution that is in charge of research and development in space and aerospace in Indonesia, especially in space weather research. Working efficienctly for coordination between researchers and workers is very influential for archieving target and effectiveness. Thus, office layout and furniture must be able to encourage the performance and efficiency. Based on observation, there are several problems in spatial layout that can make inconvenient in communication for employee and researchers in the research group. Moreover, the application of furniture have not suitable for the users so it can prevents circulation and work area. Other than that, Pussainsa LAPAN has not applied the identity of the institution to the interior elements. Therefore, the redesign of Pussainsa LAPAN is expected can creates an office that can support work in efficiency and creates a corporate identity.

Keywords: LAPAN, office layout, efficiency, effectiveness, identity