

ABSTRACT

Hybrid library is a place which the collection is partly printed, and partly non-printed. In this type of library, the information needs to be packaged into physical and digital media to help each other carry out the tasks. At the same time, college library has responsibility to increase the interest and the fondness of reading for people in the university, one of them is Indonesia University of Education Library. However the inability of human resources in the library to adjust the number of visitors, along with the availability of facilities and infrastructures, are two important things for the success transfiguration of the conventional library to the hybrid library. This is feared could become an obstacle for the university motto: leading and outstanding university. So, the effort of redesigning the interior of Indonesia University of Education Library, with hybrid as theme, and concept of less interaction can fulfill the problems.

Keywords: Hybrid, Library, UPI, Redesign the Interior.