In this modern era, the demand of urban society in the world of work or household specifically on women. Bandung is one of the cities with a high level of busyness and traffic jams. Not only that, there are differences in lifestyle such as to always look attractive and have a beautiful appearance. By overcoming the recovery of the world today can overcome the level of stress and fatigue, to reduce this women need physical care and also relaxation in order to obtain the freshness of body and soul. Relaxation can be done in several wrong ways just relaxation through spa facilities. This is a consideration for the need for facilities for Day Spa for women by using chocolate as a base material that is supported. Relaxation activities by Woman Day Spa which emphasizes the benefits of chocolate in health and skin beauty are expected to offset the solid activities of women. The interior design of Cocoa Women Day Spa not only emphasizes relaxation in its service facilities but also in providing Spa facilities according to specified standards. In this design, also applies the design of relaxation through the sense of sight, smell and hearing
