Padang State University Library is a library located in the area of Padang State University. The purpose of this design is to attract the attention of visitors, the majority of visitors are teenagers who are sensitive to the current development and the character of the teenagers nowadays prefer to gather and express their opinions. In this era of technological development is developing very fast and easily accessible anywhere, and technology-based facilities were not implemented in the library at this time so it does not fulfill the needs of modern society. The beauty and visual interest are also needed in the library so that the library does not seem boring and does not left behind, it can be seen from the number of library visitors at Padang State University in 2019 that decreases every month, therefore to increase the library visitors needs an interior atmosphere that is suitable with the needs of today's society that always keep up with the times. The approach used is a behavioral approach which is adjusted to the character of the teenager. The library design of Padang State University uses the theme of "interactive education space" in order to create a library that can fulfill the needs and character of this modern society.
