

ABSTRACT

Hoax Company Cuiiih Clothing is a trading company that is engaged in fashion distribution hits young people in Bandung. This company sells various kinds of fashion items including t-shirts, hats, jackets, shoes, pants, and many other fashion items. Calculation of daily income in the Hoax Cuiiih Clothing company, still using the manual method, namely by looking at evidence of daily transactions and viewing daily activities in the logbook. To answer the problems that exist in the Hoax Cuiiih Clothing company which is still manual, especially in the field of managing sales transactions and recording transactions to making reports, this application is made. Web Based Application for Sales Transaction Management using this cash basis recording method. The development of this application uses the SDLC waterfall model method. With this application, it can be expected to help the Hoax Cuiiih Clothing company in overcoming the sales transaction management process which is still considered very manual.

Keywords: Hoax Cuiiih Clothing, Web Applications, Cash Sales, Trading Companies, Accounting Information Systems.