

PREFACE

The author wants to thank Allah SWT for the abundance of His healthy favors, both physically and mentally, so that the author was able to finish this undergraduate thesis entitled “Supply Chain Cost-Savings Benefit Analysis upon the Implementation of Blockchain Technology” as one of the requirement to complete the undergraduate degree of International ICT Business major at Telkom University.

During the process of this research, the author admits this paper is still far from perfect and may have some writing errors due to the limitation of the author's knowledge and capability. However, the guidance, motivation and advice from all parties had been helpful to the author, so this undergraduate thesis can be resolved well. Therefore, in this occasion the author wants to send her gratitude towards:

1. Mrs. RR. Rieka Febriyanti Hutami, SMB., MM. as a supervisor that has been giving instruction, guidance, advice, and also share her knowledge to the author during this undergraduate thesis making.
2. Mrs. Nora Amelda Rizal, Ir., MSC, MM. as an academic supervisor that has been patient throughout the university period, while giving advice, guidance, and realistic motivation.
3. My precious family, Mom, Dad, Faiq, and Aqilah who have been giving the author their strength, prayer, and unconditional love.
4. To Geza, Citra, Fia, Islah, Sab, Naomi, Akbar, Tasya, Fadhil, and Cindy who have given emotional support to keep going and never give up. Healing is messy and yet moving forward is essential. Thanks for all the motivation.
5. My classmates MB-40-INT-2, all the laughter and togetherness were precious and worth remembering forever.
