

PREFACE

All the praise and thankfulness of the author goes to Allah SWT, who has bestowed His guidance and gifts so that the author can complete this final project. This final project is structured as one of the graduation requirements in the Telkom University Information Systems Study Program. During carrying out this thesis, the authors get a lot of help and support from various parties. For that reason, the author would like to thank:

1. M.Rafi and Syamsiah Hrp as parents of writers who always provide love and support that never stops and patience that writers can never reply to. Hopefully, the writer can continue to grow and make you two happy
2. Mr. Deden Witarsyah, S.T., M.Eng., Ph.D. as a supervisor 1 for all the suggestions, guidance and advice during the study and the criticisms and ideas that make the author can complete this Final Project
3. Mr. Faqih Hamami S.Kom., MT as a supervisor 2 for all the suggestions, guidance and advice during the study and the criticisms and ideas that make the author can complete this Final Project
4. Mrs. Tien Febriani Kusumasari, S.T, M.T. as a lecturer guardian, the writer would like to thank all his directions while in class and outside the classroom.
5. Mrs. Rachmadita Andeswari, S.Kom, M.Kom, as a Head of Information System Department, and also all staff who have helped me a lot.
6. SI-40-INT, Bpm, Pkb, Makan yuk, plered, Bumi Kiara who have become overseas friends who always accompany joy and sorrow, thank you for giving us many happy moments that will always be remembered until we are old.

Finally, the author acknowledges that it is still not perfect in writing this Final Project. Therefore, the author invites criticism and suggestions so that it is useful for all.
