

ABSTRACT

“Approach The Art Of Drawing And Coloring As Children's Expression Media”

Art is a fun medium, especially for children. Basically, children who do not have the ability to speak verbally and cannot process words properly. Therefore, how to approach this art media can be a medium for children's expression. Children have emotional sensitivity, how they respond to a stimulus in their environment.

Drawing media is one of the effective ways of children's expressive media. Surely a child has his own desires such as ideals, or anxieties of the child himself. Psychologically, the cognitive development of children will be trained when they learn to use symbols such as colors and shapes and process their imagination and show their skills.

The research refers to the approach for children with art media, and the results of the research will show the development of the emotions and characteristics of the child respondent to the wishes and problems faced as well as some suggestions from important figures for children.

Keywords: Drawing, Children's Expression, Art Therapy, Fine Art