

ABSTRACT

Students, especially women, are a social group vulnerable to the influence of lifestyle, fashion and current trends. Especially in the current pandemic can affect the negative impact for example, lack of concentration due to long-term gadget use and so the skin occurs blue light radiation. And the task piled up to make students depressed and stressed. Dermatologist and Beauty Clinic in England Mortar and Milk, Pamela Marshall even during the pandemic to reduce stress to do activities or activities that can be done in the home. It also gives influence users of treatment products increased caused also by the influence of social media platform beauty influencers who describe the perfection of the skin due to the treatment products. giving social media users movement to use care products according to a survey conducted by eumonitor in June 2020, there has been an increase in purchases of care products in Indonesia quoted through(fimela.com). Because of the variety of Skin care products, equipment and trinkets to perform maintenance activities or make up so that it requires a dressing table. This purpose is so that the product is composed and can facilitate the use of maintenance. In the material and media form of the dressing table is very common, thus causing limited space and easily damaged. By using qualitative methods so that this design can adjust to the needs for resource persons, especially for female students who have limited room space.

Keywords: Student, Dressing Table, Skin care.