

ABSTRACT

Over time, the Ciliwung River not only functions as a source of life, unfortunately it is also used as the final disposal of community waste, which causes the river that was originally clean to become polluted. When the Ciliwung river is polluted, it can affect the water needs of the people along the riverbanks and are prone to natural disasters such as floods. With the current condition of the Ciliwung River, a community called Yayasan Sahabat Ciliwung (Sahabat Ciliwung Foundation) was formed, starting from the concern of someone who was moved to see the condition of the river polluted by factory waste and housing waste. Up until now, Sahabat Ciliwung Foundation has become a legal entity. This Final Project is in the form of a documentary film with a theme of the importance of keeping the river environment clean and not littering into the river or in other public places, so that the river can become one of the water attractions in Depok City, West Java. The documentary film with the title "Sahabat Ciliwung" which has a duration of 15 minutes is expected to be able to change people's behavior by not littering garbage and waste into the river, because the Ciliwung River is also now becomes a water tourism infrastructure facility and also a training ground for Rafting Athletes in Depok City, West Java.
