

NEW DESIGN OF MOTHER'S AND CHILDREN HOSPITAL IN TANGERANG WITH AN APPROACH TO PSYCHOLOGICAL OF SPACE

Annisa Bella Safitri

Interior Design Program, Telkom University

annisabellas@student.telkomuniversity.ac.id

ABSTRACT

The mother's and child hospital is a health facility that focuses on providing health services for women, pregnant women, and children. In the district. Tangerang, this special facility for mother's and child health is still considered lacking in meeting the needs of its users. Many hospitals only focus on service and do not pay attention to how psychological space can affect patients a good sense of comfort to help the patient's recovery process. In addition to feeling anxiety when visiting the hospital, visitors can also give an unpleasant impression. Especially children who are emotionally unstable and unfamiliar with the hospital environment make them feel scared. Therefore, this design aims to be able to meet the needs of users by creating a comfortable hospital atmosphere both physically and psychologically. Through the method used in writing, namely using qualitative data described in the form of words. With the stages of conducting observations and comparative studies on the object of the hospital.

Keywords: Mother's and Children Hospital, Psychology of Mother and Children, Psychology of Space